Welcome Note from Editor-in-Chief

Riffat Mehboob

We take great pleasure to launch 'Markhor-the journal of Zoology' (MJZ) under the umbrella of 'Lahore Medical Research Center, LLP' (LMRC). LMRC is a research center that conducts researchers in medical and health sciences as well as biomedical and biological sciences. It also publishes International peer reviewed journals such as 'Pakistan BioMedical Journal' which is the first journal launched by LMRC.

MJZ is an international peer reviewed bi-annual journal, that publishes original articles, reviews, letter to editors, meta-analysis, systematic reviews related to zoological sciences. It covers the specialities of wildlife, veterinary sciences, animal sciences, cell biology, molecular biology, biotechnology, microbiology, genetics, anthropology, evolutionary studies, environmental biology, biodiversity, taxonomy, paleontology, physiology, entomology, parasitology, fisheries, dairy, livestock, animal conservation and developmental biology.

Manuscripts are welcome from researchers and scientists all over the world. I congratulate all the team of journal for their efforts in it's launching. In the coming years, we will face a challenge to improve the quality and standard of the journal and bring it to the new heights of excellence. Support from authors, reviewers and readers is welcome in terms of scholarly contributions and suggestions.
